It's an institution where ideas flow and curiosity takes a front seat. It's a place where questions fuel learning as young minds are encouraged to ask why and how. In conclusion the school is much more than place of teaching.

We have witnessed remarkable development in our 5 year old kid at SRWS. Teacher Shivani ma'am dedicates personalized attention to every child. Our kid's command over languages has gone up. She is equally comfortable in English and Hindi, ma'am also has given exposure to spanish which the kids enjoy. Her social skills have vastly improved as she comfortably strikes conversation, confidently does public speaking. We find her interest being around in areas like science, math. She enjoys the cultural and sports activities at school. Big thanks to teachers, staff & management.
